Hi Everyone!

At long last, and less than a month removed from the Great Day itself, here are the results (below)!

This is largely as you reported it, though I rounded up a few distances.

Please note two of our great runners kept true to the tradition of running the distance of the race's Birthday Boy (ccd here.)

This year, I kept a super low profile because of hassles with the park over the last few years. And I didn't put the event on ultrasignup. The result was: less hassle! That said, I'd like to have aid out longer and maybe put a few thoughtful markers down. Let me know if there's something more than the good cheer of your fellow runners that could improve the day. Who knows what next year will hold?

Yours,

Adam Ray
